PREFACE.

THE RIGHT REV. WHITE KENNETT, D.D. (1660-1728), Bishop of Peterborough, entered St. Edmund Hall, Oxford, in 1678, and began his career as a writer while an undergraduate. He took part in many of the political and religious controversies of his day, and by his advocacy of what he believed to be the principles of true piety, became involved in the Revolution of 1688.

He acquired reputation as an historian and antiquarian, his best own work, the "Compleat History of England," being published 1706.

He was one of the original members of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, and, in order to advance the interests of the Society, made a collection of books, charts, maps and documents, relating to the general subject of discoveries and colonization of foreign lands and the attempts made to propagate the Gospel of Christ, especially in the English possessions in America, the East Indies and Africa. The whole collection, under the title of "Bibliotheca Americanæ Primordia," he presented in 1712 to the Society, as it is stated in the title-page:—

"For the perpetual use of their members . . . and others
"concerned in the good designs of planting and promoting
"Christianity within Her Majesty's Colonies . . ."

Three copies of this catalogue are included in this sale, also copies of no less than ten of the famous Eliot Indian tracts, with several duplicates, written by the Revs. John Eliot, Thomas Shepard, Thomas Mayhew, Henry Whitfield and others, the earliest preachers of the Gospel to the Indians (lots 50-65).

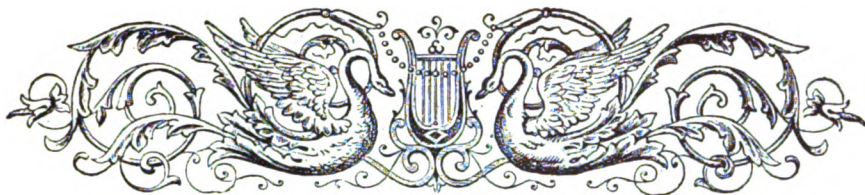

Among the most important of the other books are the following:—
Brinsley's Consolation for our Grammar Schooles, 1622 (lot 24);

Castell's Petition, 1641 (lot 28); Sir Francis Drake's The World Encompassed, 1628 (lot 48); Hammond's Leah and Rachel, or the Two Fruitfull Sisters Virginia and Maryland, 1656 (lot 73); Indian War: Articles of Peace between Charles II and several Indian Kings and Queens, 1677 (lot 80); Johnson's Nova Britannia, 1609 (lot 82); Langford's Just and Cleere Refutation of a Pamphlet entitled Babylon's Fall in Maryland, etc. 1655 (lot 89); Lechford's Plain Dealing, or Newes from New England, 1642 (lot 93); Lederer's Discoveries, from Virginia to the West of Carolina, 1672 (lot 95); Morton's New English Canaan, unique copy (lot 110); Mourt's Relation or Journal . . . of the English Plantation settled at Plimoth in New England, etc. 1622 (lot 111); Stirling's Map and Description of New England, 1630 (lot 149); Vincent's True Relation of the Late Battell fought . . . between the English and the Salvages, 1637 (lot 159); Hakluyt's Virginia richly valued, 1609 (lot 161); Strange News from Virginia, a full and true account of the life and death of Nathanael Bacon Esquire, 1677 (lot 163); Williams' Key into the Language of America, 1643 (lot 172); Wood's New Englands Prospect, 1635 (lot 175).

Among the other books bequeathed to the Society by various benefactors, and catalogued for sale with the White Kennett books, is the following very rare work: Church's Entertaining Passages relating to Philip's War, 1716 (lot 200).

And A true Discovery of certaine strange and inhumane proceedings of some ungratefull people in Maryland, unbound, autograph signature of Bishop Kennett on title
sm. 4to. Printed for the Author, 1655
* * * THE EXTREMELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION. Not in Huth, or Hoe catalogues, and not recorded by Livingston. The Huntington sale catalogue mentions only three copies. The pamphlet was written in answer to Leonard Strong's "Babylon's Fall in Maryland," published in the same year. Strong was one of the leading Puritans at Providence, and his pamphlet was written in a partisan spirit. The present work contains a letter from Governor Stone's wife to Lord Baltimore, in which she describes the conduct of the Puritans and their treatment of her husband. Langford received from Lord Baltimore a gift of fifteen hundred acres of land in Maryland as a reward for writing this work.

- * * MOST PROBABLY UNIQUE. "The New English Canaan."
by Thomas Morton, Amsterdam, 1637, 'written upon ten years' knowledge and experiment of the country' is a sort of satire upon the Plymouth and Massachusetts people, who looked upon the author as a reprobate and an outlaw. . . . Morton's Book, though printed in Holland 'in the yeare 1637,' was entered in the Stationers' Register in London, 'Nov. 18, 1633,' in the name of

Foreign Parts [THIS COPY] . . . bearing this imprint: 'Printed for Charles Greene, and are sold in Pauls Church-yard,' no date, but '1632' written in with a pen. . . This date is, of course, an error. Morton's book was not written till after the publication of Wood's New England's Prospect, to which reference is frequently made in the New English Canaan. The New England's Prospect was entered at the Stationers '7 Julii 1634,' and was published the same year. . . The book must have been entered at the Stationers some time in anticipation of its printing, and when printed some copies were struck off bearing the imprint of Charles Greene, though only one copy is now known with his name on the title-page."—Winsor's Narrative and Critical History of America, vol. III, p. 348.
